SILVER BAY | Silver Bay YMCA was recently notified that its request for $1 million in funding from the Congressional Community Project Funding was granted.

Silver Bay YMCA would like to thank Rep. Elise Stefanik (R-N.Y.), Sen. Chuck Schumer (D-N.Y.), and Sen. Kirsten Gillibrand (D-N.Y) for their support of the appropriation within the federal budget.

“We are so appreciative of our New York delegation in Congress recognizing and supporting the need for creating new jobs as well as increasing the access to health and wellness in our area,” Silver Bay YMCA CEO Peter Doliber stated.

This funding will be used to complete Fisher Gymnasium capital improvements. Fisher Gymnasium is 118 years old and is currently used mostly as a seasonal facility due to the building being mostly unheated.

“The renovation of the gym will follow strict historic preservation guidelines so the building will have all the necessary heat and air conditioning without compromising its historic integrity,” explained Doliber.

The funding will be used to create a winterized year-round facility that will offer programming designed to improve the health and well-being of seniors, youth, families, and adults within the communities of Silver Bay, Hague, and Ticonderoga.

Currently, only the fitness studio and dance studio are winterized. Once completed, Fisher Gymnasium will be able to offer more fitness and wellness classes as well as indoor activities such as indoor pickleball. Additionally, Fisher Lounge will be reopened as a community gathering spot. These improvements will positively impact the physical and mental health of local residents as well as create jobs.

Doliber is anticipating when the renovations will be completed. He said, “We look forward to serving our community in a greater way with a wellness center and a place for folks to congregate and enjoy one another’s company year-round!” ■
